Volunteers of America Mid-States recognizes contributions of volunteers as vital to the operation of the agency and as a fulfillment of the agency's mission to serve all people by responding to those whose need is to serve; therefore the agency strives to incorporate volunteer participation in all aspects of its programming and operations.

Recruiting and Placing Volunteers

Recruitment: Volunteers are recruited by Volunteers of America Mid-States with the intent of broadening and expanding the involvement of the community in the organization and expanding and enhancing services to its consumers. Volunteers are recruited without regard to gender, disability, age, race, religion, or sexual identity. The qualification for volunteer's placement is based on the volunteer's ability to perform a task or responsibility on behalf of Volunteers of America Mid-States.

Recruitment of minors: The volunteer activity that is assigned to a minor must be performed in non-hazardous environment and comply with all requirements of child labor laws. Youth volunteers must also be supervised by a staff member or an approved adult volunteer. Orientation: Recurring volunteers will attend an orientation prior to volunteering. The orientation will include an overview of services and opportunities from which a more specific agenda based on applicants qualifications, availability, and preference will be developed. Upon orientation completion, a background check will be conducted to be cleared for services.

Background Checks: When volunteers will be placed in direct contact with consumers, or will be responsible for financial and other valuable organization resources, additional screening procedures may be instituted. These procedures may include reference checks, criminal background checks, etc. Volunteers, who refuse permission to conduct these checks, will not be accepted for placement in these identified positions.

Alone is considered that the volunteer will be alone with a consumer (no including parents or staff present) in that if a group of adult volunteers will be with a consumer then the consumer is not considered alone. Ongoing/recurrent volunteers who may be alone with consumers (meaning no other adult present) will require a background check. An adult volunteer with another adult volunteer is not considered alone.

Direct service includes program services such as case management, life skills, housing counseling, screening, service coordination, employment coaching, therapy, etc.

Placement: In placing a volunteer in a position, attention will be paid to the interests and capabilities of the volunteer and to the requirements of the volunteer position. No placement shall be made unless the requirements of both the volunteer and the supervising staff can be met.

Supervision and Evaluation

Supervision: Community Engagement Staff will provide oversight and coordination of each volunteer within the organization. This person is responsible for day-to-day management and guidance of the work of the volunteer, and shall be available to the volunteer for consultation and assistance. The supervisor will have primary responsibility for developing suitable assignments for the volunteer, involving the volunteer in the communication flow of the agency and for providing feedback to and evaluation of the volunteer's work.

Evaluations: Recurring volunteers will participate periodically with their supervisors in evaluations to review their work. Evaluation includes both an examination of the volunteer's performance of his or her responsibilities and a discussion of any suggestions that the volunteer may have concerning the position or project with which the volunteer is connected.

Corrective action: If performance or behavior is not meeting expected standards, corrective action may be taken, usually following an evaluation session. Examples of corrective action may include the requirement for additional training, reassignment or the volunteer to a new position, suspension of the volunteer or dismissal from volunteer service.

Dismissal of a volunteer: Volunteers who do not adhere to the rules and procedures of the organization or who fail to perform their volunteer assignments at a satisfactory level may be subject to dismissal. No volunteer will be terminated until the volunteer has had an opportunity to discuss the reasons for possible dismissal with their supervisors. Prior to dismissal, the supervisor will consult with the Community Engagement staff.
